Dr Cecil Stanley Treip MA MD PhD
We regret to announce the death, on 14 August 2020, of Dr Cecil Treip.

Cecil came to Cambridge in 1961 as Senior Assistant Pathologist at Addenbrooke’s Hospital, where he started a neuropathological service to the departments of neurological surgery and neurology. He was Honorary Consultant in Neuropathology at Addenbrooke’s from 1961 to 1975 and curator of the University’s Pathology Museum for ten years to 1976.

Cecil became a Fellow of the Royal College of Pathologists in 1973, was elected Vice-President of the British Neuropathological Society in 1983 and served as its President from 1985 to 1987. From 1975 until his retirement in 1990 Cecil was University Lecturer and Consultant in Pathology. Throughout his career, Cecil’s research and numerous publications focused largely on general pathology and neuropathology, with emphasis on clinical and experimental aspects of the pituitary and hypothalamus.

Cecil can be seen on the far right of the back row of this photo showing the Neurosciences medical staff 1961 at Addenbrooke’s Hospital.

COVID-19 DEPARTMENTAL INFORMATION

Suspected COVID-19 cases in the workplace: what to do

1. If you are at home do not come into work. If you are at work you must go home immediately or go to the designated site isolation room.

2. Inform your line manager/PI who must contact safety@path.cam.ac.uk and admin@path.cam.ac.uk.

3. You must follow: If you are sick with diagnosed or suspected coronavirus (COVID-19) found here and be tested and self-isolate as appropriate.

Reporting a COVID-19 test

If you have a COVID-19 test inform your manager of your test result as soon as possible. Your absence will be treated as sick leave and you should follow the Department’s sickness absence reporting procedure via admin@path.cam.ac.uk.

The need to quarantine after travelling abroad – HR process

If you have returned from abroad and need to quarantine inform your Manager/ Supervisor. If you are unable to work from home, you will need to take annual leave to cover any period of self-isolation. If you do not have sufficient annual leave left, you will need to use unpaid leave or a combination of annual leave and unpaid leave.

WELLBEING

Pilates

Since Covid lockdown the pilates instructor who was running sessions in the Department of Chemistry pre-lockdown, has moved to running pre-recorded Zoom sessions (£4.50 per session) for staff members who wanted to continue, along with a brief zoom chat weekly to give the social/personal element. Frances Rennie is an amazing pilates teacher and her website is here.

Ask for help

For support and advice talk to the Department’s Wellbeing Advocate Jodi Smith or support@path.cam.ac.uk

Stay in touch

Keep in touch with the Department through this newsletter, or Let us know of any news from your group / team or send us a photo or idea which we can share with others. We would love to hear you. Send to admin@path.cam.ac.uk

EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY

Open Cambridge

Open Cambridge will be held this year from 11 – 13 September and is now available to view online.

Open Cambridge is part of the national Heritage Open Days scheme. Designed to offer special access to places that are normally closed to the public or charge admission. The initiative provides an annual opportunity for people to discover the local history and heritage of their community.

Please visit the website here to see the great selection of events taking place.
